

Birth Registration and Canada Child Benefits

The Canada Revenue Agency (CRA) and the Manitoba Vital Statistics Agency are partnering to offer a new, quick, easy, and secure way to apply for all child benefit programs for your newborn. This includes the Canada Child Tax Benefit (CCTB), the Universal Child Care Benefit (UCCB), the GST/HST credit, and any related provincial/territorial programs the CRA administers.

After your child's birth has been registered, and with your consent, the Vital Statistics Agency will send the registration information over a secure communication network to the CRA. The CRA will then determine if you are eligible for benefits.

How do you register?

If you are the mother, and a Canadian citizen or permanent resident and you are primarily responsible for the care and upbringing of your child, all you need to do is:

- Complete and sign the Registration of birth form.
- Consent to the Vital Statistics Agency sharing your information with the CRA.
- Provide your social insurance number (SIN).

Note: If you do not provide your SIN, it may result in a delay in processing your application or issuing payments.

The CRA may contact you if more information is needed.

The following information will be sent to the CRA, after your child's birth has been registered with the Province of Manitoba:

- your name, date of birth, place of birth, SIN, and mailing address;
- your child's name, date and place of birth, sex of the child; and
- your child's birth registration number.

Note: Your marital status information is not sent to the CRA. You must inform the CRA if your marital status has changed by using the Change my marital status online service at www.cra.gc.ca/myaccount, or by using Form RC65, Marital Status Change available on the CRA website at www.cra.gc.ca/forms, or by calling 1-800-387-1193.

If you give your consent on the birth registration form, do not reapply for your child's benefits using the CRA online service or Form RC66, Canada Child Benefits Application. If you reapply it may result in a delay in processing your first application or issuing payments.

If you do not consent

If you do not give your consent, the information you provided on the birth registration form will not be sent to the CRA. You will then have to apply for Canada child benefits either by using the Apply for child benefits online service at www.cra.gc.ca/myaccount, or by using Form RC66, Canada Child Benefits Application, available on the CRA website at www.cra.gc.ca/forms.

Payments and direct deposit

To receive your payments, you and your spouse or common-law partner must each file an income tax and benefit return every year, even if you have not received income in the year.

Any amounts that may be due to you will be sent as soon as the birth registration and the benefit application processes are done. Once the CRA receives your application, you may expect your first notice/payment within 80 calendar days. We encourage you to choose the option of direct deposit to receive your payments. To use the CRA's direct deposit service go to www.cra.gc.ca/myaccount, or get the Direct Deposit Enrolment Form on the CRA website at www.cra.gc.ca/forms.

Even if you receive your payments by direct deposit, you must inform the CRA of your new address each time you move.
