

Election, or Revocation of an Election, to Report in a Functional Currency

- Use this form to:
 - elect under paragraph 261(3)(b) to report in a functional currency; or
 - revoke under subsection 261(4), an election made under paragraph 261(3)(b).
- You can elect to report in a functional currency for a tax year if all of the following conditions are met:
 - you are a corporation (other than an investment corporation, a mortgage investment corporation, or a mutual fund corporation) resident in Canada throughout the tax year;
 - there is a functional currency for the first tax year to which the election applies; and
 - you have not filed nor revoked a previous election to report in a functional currency.
- Under proposed legislation, for tax years that begin after July 12, 2013, the election to report in a functional currency must be filed within the first 61 days of the tax year to which the election applies.
 If the tax year starts prior to July 13, 2013, the election must be filed at least six months before the end of the tax year to which the election applies.
- A functional currency is:
 - the currency of the United States of America, the European Monetary Union, the United Kingdom, Australia, or any other prescribed currency; and
 - the main currency in which you keep your records and books of account for financial reporting purposes.
- You can revoke an election at any time after the first functional currency year by filing a revocation. The revocation applies to each tax year that begins on or after the day that is six months after the day the revocation is filed.
- File a completed copy of this form at the tax centre where you file your T2 Corporation Income Tax Return.
- The subsection and the paragraph referred to on this form are from the Income Tax Act.
